Planned Giving to Achieve Your Philanthropic Goals

Your AAPP Foundation Legacy
Continue to make an impact beyond your lifetime

What Is Planned Giving?

The AAPP Foundation is working toward a world where individuals with mental health disorders receive optimal care because psychiatric pharmacists are an essential member of the health care team. We do this by investing in initiatives that demonstrate the value of psychiatric pharmacists, contribute to the development of future leaders in the profession, and/or support new practitioners. Your planned gift allows you the opportunity to provide a gift from your estate to an organization whose values align with those you lived during your lifetime.

Benefits of Planned Giving

- Assets specified in your will/trust and/or individual retirement account (IRA) remain in your control during your lifetime.
- You can modify your planned giving arrangements if your circumstances change.
- U.S. tax laws are intended to reward your philanthropy. As a result, there are numerous methods by which you can plan your giving including a bequest, charitable remainder trust, and/or an IRA beneficiary designation.
- Know that your gift will benefit AAPP Foundation in the future just as you intend it to now.
- Receive exclusive membership in the Legacy Partner's Society

Recognizing Your Generosity

AAPP Foundation is pleased to recognize and thank those who commit any amount in their planned giving by offering membership in the Foundation's Legacy Partners Society. Society members will be recognized on the Foundation website, in Foundation publications, and at the AAPP Annual Meeting.

Members of the AAPP Foundation Board and staff would welcome the opportunity to visit with you about your plans and invite you contact AAPP Foundation to take the next step in establishing your legacy now.

Why Giving Matters

Showcasing the Value of Psychiatric Pharmacists

High quality research that supports the integration of psychiatric pharmacists into mental health care teams is critical for the advancement of the profession. With the support of AAPP, the Foundation will administer up to two, $250,000 grants to fund research intended to generate high-quality large sample size (n) data sets that evaluate the impact of integrating psychiatric pharmacists into team-based mental health care in studies with multiple research sites and investigators. This grant program will conclude in 2026 with interim results reported in 2025.

Growing Psychiatric Pharmacy Trainees

With the ongoing mental health, substance use, and suicide crises, the Foundation's work in attracting and growing future psychiatric pharmacists is more important than ever. Through its annual grant program, student pharmacists have the opportunity to evaluate a career in psychiatric pharmacy by attending the AAPP Annual Meeting. This experience allows dozens of students to develop professional networks and acquire knowledge through programming and mentoring opportunities.

Defining the Future of Psychiatric Pharmacy Practice

Innovative and cutting-edge practices that impact the care of patients into the future is critical in today's world. AAPP Foundation is proud to support numerous grant programs that allow psychiatric pharmacists and trainees the opportunity to invest time in researching methods to make a difference in the lives of those living with mental illness as well as their broader communities.

I support the AAPP Foundation because of its effectiveness in advancing best treatment options for individuals living with psychiatric disorders and improving access to treatment. It was very simple to include the AAPP Foundation when I did our estate plan. I am happy that through my bequest, I will continue to improve the lives of others even after I'm no longer on this earth. How could I not act now to better the lives of others for years to come?

—Joni Fowler, PharmD, BCPP

The Foundation's mission of advancing the psychiatric pharmacy profession resonates with me and is one I am happy to support. I also believe in the Foundation's methods of supporting research, scholarship, and practitioner development. The ability to financially support the Foundation while I am alive, in a way, pays it forward for future generations to provide individuals living with mental disorders excellent pharmaceutical care, long after I am gone.

—Matthew Fuller, PharmD, BCPP
